PS&S Designs Glen Cove Piazza, A 2011 Smart Growth Winner

GARDEN CITY, NY, (May 10, 2011) – The “Glen Cove Piazza” by Jobco Realty & Construction,” a multi-use real estate development project, has been recognized as a 2011 Smart Growth recipient in the Vision Long Island competition. PS&S, LLC, the highly acclaimed design and engineering firm, completed the engineering aspects for this project. The annual competition recognizes people, projects and policies that demonstrate a high degree of Smart Growth across Long Island. The award was in the “Sense of Place” category.

The “Glen Cove Piazza” project consists of 4-story and 5-story buildings containing retail, commercial, residential and public square. PS&S worked closely with the City of Glen Cove, NY and Jobco Realty to help implement its smart growth aspects and adhere to the City’s master plan. Civil/site engineering services include the design of overall site layout. PS&S also designed grading, on-site sanitary, storm drainage, and utilities. As such, the project is a true example of social, economic and sustainable development with corresponding benefits to the community.

“PS&S is honored to have worked on the “Glen Cove Piazza “and that it received the Smart Growth award,” said Dr. Anthony Sartor, the CEO of PS&S. “As a firm we are proud to have worked on a project recognized by an organization known for leadership in acknowledging Smart Growth projects, policies and regulations.”
