

PS&S Hires Ronald Weston to Lead Newark Office

WARREN, NJ, (September 6, 2011) PS&S, the highly-acclaimed design and engineering firm, announced the hiring of Ronald Weston, AIA, LEED AP, Senior Director of Architecture, to oversee operations in its Newark office. Mr. Weston brings to PS&S more than 25 years of experience as a professional architect.

Prior to joining PS&S, Mr. Weston was the owner of a start-up architecture, planning and consulting firm. Previously he spent the last seventeen years of his career at RMJM (formerly Hillier Architecture), where he managed a variety of international, commercial and mixed-use projects, including the $200 million Gouverneur Healthcare Services building in New York City, the 3.5 million square foot Baha Mar Resort in the Bahamas and Sprint's 8 million square-foot, 21-building headquarters in Kansas. He has experience in all aspects of the building design business, from client development, to staff management and hiring, to project oversight, leading as many as 40 people on one project.

In announcing Weston's hire, Dr. Anthony Sartor, CEO of PS&S, said: "Ron's extensive experience in project management, combined with his creative energy and leadership skills, makes him the ideal candidate for this position. I am confident in his ability to deliver top quality design services and grow our business in Newark and beyond."

Weston is a licensed architect in New Jersey, New York, Missouri and the District of Columbia, and he is certified by both the National Council of Architectural Registration Boards (NCARB) and the United States Green Building Council (USGBC).
